HAD BRIGANDAGE THRUST-UPON HIM

General "Pancho" Villa.

General "Pancho" Villa, Constitutional commander of 10,000 troops operating in revolt in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, was born forty-two years ago in a little Mexican town in the state wherein he is now operating. The son of a well-educated, well-to-do Mexican, he literally had brigandage thrust upon him. When still a very young youth he saw the holdings of his father torn from him by the "iron hand" rule of Porfirio Diaz. Thrown as he was upon an unproductive country and without resources, he organized a band of brigands and since has continued operations on both sides of the Rio Grande.

RESPECT THE BIBLE SAYS REV. WILLMANN

PEOPLE SHOULD REGARD SCRIPTURES AS THEIR CHOICE READING—POWER OF REASONING NECESSARY.

TRADITION A POWER

Observes Yesterday by Treating on Subject of Tuberculosis Through Governor's Proclamation.

"Whatsoever things were written aforetime, were written for our learning," Romans, fifth chapter, 4th verse. St. Paul, in writing this, referred to the Old Testament Scriptures, which have been long standing as the verses of reasoning and thought. We may reasonably make use of his words in respect to the whole Bible. The church of today teaches this power of reasoning by appointing these words to be read in Epistle, while the Collect, Epistle and Gospel brings before us the subject of God's words to men.

"There are three great reasons why we should value the holy book. These reasons are found in three powers, tradition, prophecy, and edification. Tradition handed down by the words of mouth, words and sayings, while God caused His words to be written down from time to time. Then He delivered to appointed guardians what was written, first to the Jewish church, then to the undivided Catholic church. No other book witnessed to be as true, and guarded and handed on from generation to generation, has been of more distinctness than the bible.

"The Bible is full of prophecies, all of which are most wonderful and minute. History of all ages, not only of the past ages, but of the present and future ages, compose the full line of prophecies. All predictions, prophecies and promises are sure of a fulfillment, either in the past, in a small degree, or a final and complete fulfillment in the future.

"The Bible comes with power of edification, building us up in that we are just and true. There are promises of help, and comfort through every circumstance and change in life. Everyone should read the Bible daily, and be careful to see that they carry it out, as a rule of life. God's voice is always heard speaking through the written word, and we should make the Bible our book of devotion. As we read its prayers and praises always ready to meet our need, so will we find the Bible a light unto our feet, and unto our eyes. Always try, in whatever position you are in, to see pictured before you the Christ, the perfect God, and the perfect man. In these ways, make use of the Bible, showing that we value it more highly than any other book."

Rev. Willmann drew special attention to the fact that the Rev. Cross, who was the best method of raising money toward providing funds to defray the expenses which are brought about each year by the Anti-Tuberculosis Association. The governor's letter and proclamation was observed at the Trinity church yesterday. All churches were asked to observe the day as a means of service to the public.

The state of Wisconsin is a member of the National Association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis. Special attention directed toward the loss of lives, annually recorded through this dreadful disease. These lives are needlessly sacrificed. Care and thoughtfulness in not overtaxing one's strength would produce a condition under which the germ of tuberculosis could gain no foothold in the system.

The remedy is as follows: If the disease gets a hold, see that the person afflicted gets pure food, pure air, plenty of sunshine and the necessary rest. The co-operation of all is needed in the campaign, and by taking active part in this campaign, either by selling stamps, or in aiding the sick, the success will be even more marked.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR F. STONE ON FRIDAY

Milton Junction, Dec. 6.—Funeral services for the late Frank W. Stone, who passed away last Tuesday, were held at the First M. E. church in Milton Junction Friday afternoon, the Rev. Webster Miller officiating. At the service there was gathered a large number of friends and relatives to pay their last respects, and the floral offerings were many and beautiful. Interment was made in the old Johnson cemetery in the family lot near Painesville, Ohio, May 25, 1881, and died at his home here last Tuesday at two o'clock in the afternoon. When he was about five years old he came with his parents to Wisconsin and settled in North Johnston, where he lived until 1892, when he moved to Milton Junction, which has been his home ever since. He had six brothers and three sisters. Those who survive him and mourn his loss are Allen R. Stone, who lives near Milton Junction, I. G. Stone, who lives in this village, Mrs. Ida M. Warren of Dickens, Iowa, and Homer Stone of Painesville, Wisconsin, and some nephews and nieces. In his youth he united with the Free Will Baptist church. He was physically handicapped through life, but he did not permit this to discourage him in attempting his best. He never desired to be a burden to others. He always assisted himself as much as possible and tried to live on the sunny side of life. During the last few years he suffered considerably but always bore with a patient spirit. Mrs. Lizzie Stone, a sister-in-law, and family, with whom he has made his home here, always cared and made his path through life pleasant in every way they possibly could. Miss Edna Jewett of Chicago, formerly of this place, was united in marriage to Herbert Sheldon of that place last Thursday. The young couple have the best wishes of the community.

ASK AID OF POLICE IN LOCATING COUPLE

Nell Alexander, superintendent of the East Division of the Milwaukee Association of Charities, has written Chief of Police J. H. Ransom, asking that he be on the lookout for a man with the name of Simon Schori, whom he is informed, was arrested in Janesville in 1909, but evidently served no sentence. He has been living with a woman by the name of Minnie Sheker, whose husband divorced her four years ago, and they have been ordered to separate. She has been living with him in the city. Schori has the consumption and looks like a defective. He has blue eyes, blond hair, is thin, and of average height. The police have no record of Schori and he is unknown to them.

WILL OPEN CLASSES WITHIN THREE WEEKS

Rushing Work on New Gymnasium for Winter Work at Remodeled Association Building.

It is expected that gymnasium classes will be opened at the Y. M. C. A. by the last of this month, as the work of finishing the new gym is being rushed after a long period of inactivity. Director Frank Yordy is anxious to organize the classes for the winter work in the shortest possible time. It is the plan of Secretary J. C. Kline to start the work before the formal opening of the building to the public because of the great amount of remodeling that still remains unstarted.

The equipment for the gym has arrived, consisting of the following material: Adjustable horse, new model spring bar, three sets of stall bars, six new mats, adjustable parallel bars, steel suspended horizontal bars and other minor indoor equipment. Workmen promise to finish the laying of the cork for the running track in the gallery by the last of the week and the basketball courts will be completed in the near future. Volley ball promises to become a popular sport, especially among the business men. With three courts the members will have plenty of room to play their favorite sport, basketball.

The swimming pool will not be completed for another month because of the late arrival of the filtering apparatus. The new dormitories have been finished and the workmen are remodeling the old ones at the present time. Another week is expected to complete the work.

Although the billiard and pool tables have arrived it will be before the room will be ready, because there has been practically no work done on the room, which is to be redecorated and finished.

POLICE SEARCHING FOR RUNAWAY GIRL

Jefferson County Sheriff Learns Missing Girl Made Way to This City.

After the authorities at Watertown had given up all hopes of finding Bessie Lynch, the sixteen year old girl who on last Monday disappeared from her home in that city, it was learned that she had arrived in the morning train to Janesville, and the local police are to make a thorough search in the city for the missing girl. The girl is mentally degenerate and it was feared that she had fallen into the hands of a peddler or other unscrupulous person. She was last seen leaving the Watertown depot on Monday morning. The girl was sixteen years of age, five foot tall, cross eyed and had brown hair. She was attired in a red dress and did not wear a hat.

SHIPMENT MOLDING SAND INTERRUPTED

Prolonged Wet Weather Followed by Freeze Will Probably Prevent Continuance of Operations.

Shipments of molding sand from the pits of the Janesville Molding Sand company four miles north of the city were interrupted by the long spell of rainy weather and the freeze-up yesterday and today will probably result in the suspension of shipments for this season. Two carloads have been shipped out and there are standing orders for many more. Delay in the installation of the excavating and loading machinery as well as unfavorable weather made the season a short one but the next spring the shipments are expected to reach a great volume. Both cars shipped to date were billed to a Racine foundry.

The sand is pronounced as the result of laboratory and practical working tests to be the equal in quality of the Albany, New York, molding sand, and superior to the Janesville, Ohio, or any other western sand. There are several grades of it, suitable for the manufacture of castings of all sizes and in different metals. The loading machinery operated by a ten horse power gasoline engine, consist of an Albright excavator with a daily capacity equal to the work of forty men. Within a short time there will be installed a tramway with sixty yards of tracks and twelve steel dump cars with a capacity of one and one-half cubic yards will be operated on it.

Two sidings have been installed by the Chicago & Northwestern railway. One the storage track, will hold a good-sized train of cars, and the work track will hold twenty cars. Each is equipped with a derrick and electric block-signals which have been put in at great expense. These will indicate at Janesville the presence of a train on the main track near the pits, and if a train is leaving the pits, the train at the pit is automatically notified. This makes traffic practically as safe in every way as it was before the siding was installed.

There is a large deposit of sharp sand and gravel on the Maxfield farm, as well as molding sand, and the company intends to put in a complete system of loaders and crushers next spring.

WILL INVESTIGATE BLACKHAND LETTER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Wausau, Dec. 5.—Great excitement was caused today by the news that Henry Ruder, a prominent business man, had received two black hand letters.

One was addressed to George Ruder, who is dead, and the other to the Ruder Brewing Company, demanding $3,000 on penalty of being dynamited. An attempt was made to capture the blackmailers by placing a package at the place designated in the letter, but although officers stood on watch in the cold throughout the night, no one appeared.

Sport Snap Shots

Joe Guyon, the Carlisle halfback, is said to be another Jim Thorpe on the gridiron. Guyon's wonderful work for the Indians the season just closed has made football followers declare that he is the equal of the redskin wonder and that he replaced Thorpe and proved himself well able to fill the Thorpe shoes. Guyon played at tackle last season, his first year on the field, and made such a hit with Pop Warner that he was tried in the backfield, where he shone even more resplendently. He is five feet ten, weighing 178 pounds and yet in spite of his size and weight he is a flash on his feet and able to get away on the shot. All who have made any effort to bring him to the ground in full flight agree in chorus that he is the toughest proposition in that respect that they ever encountered. He is twenty years old and they say he is as good as Thorpe. And if popular opinion is to be respected, Thorpe was the best ever. Which would give Guyon a pretty fair rating.

Clark Griffith has a good word to say for Tom Lynch, the almost ex-president of the National League. At a time when most everyone is hailing the coming of the new chief, Griffith allows that Lynch was far from a dud on the job. "I don't say this at all in depreciation of Tenor," says Griffith, "but I would like to say a good word for Lynch, because while managing the Reds I had occasion to deal with him quite a little. And I always found him square as could be and right on the job." Perhaps Lynch's removal was for the best, but it's good to hear someone come forth and hand him a bouquet. Too many are apt to think that the ex-ump was altogether a trifle.

As a boxer, Willie Ritchie is one of the best financiers we have. Any chance to pile up the coin is not overlooked by the wise and thrifty little lightweight champ. His latest one which all but put Milwaukee promoters on their backs was a demand for $7,500 for going ten rounds in the Cream City. Seven hundred and fifty a round would be nice wages, but they are afraid Milwaukee that they could not frame up a boat that would draw that much. At any rate it is clear that when Willie retires from the ring he won't have to kick about the price of life's necessities.

Ever hear of "soaping" the pitcher's box? A neat little trick that players have been known to resort to when they are anxious to put the binger on the control of the opposition twirler. The loose dirt around the mound is generously saturated with soap in such a way as to make the soil there quite slippery. Most every pitcher is fond of rubbing his hand in the dust that he may get a firmer grip on the ball. Naturally, as you will see at once, soap mixed with dirt wouldn't help it a bit. In fact, if a first-class A. No. 1 job of soaping is done the twirler will find great difficulty in getting the ball anywhere in the general direction of the plate. The moisture on the twirler's hands mixed with particles of soap make the ball very slippery indeed. Pittsburgh players tried it on Bugs Raymond one day when he was pitching for St. Louis. Somehow it didn't work, and instead of playing hot with his control after the first inning or so he seemed to be getting better all the time. After the game Bugs walked over to the Pittsburgh bench and poured a handful of rosin into the hand of Fred Clarke. "I'll stop all the soap in the world," said Bugs with a snicker. He had discovered the soap in his first inning and had provided himself with the rosin for the rest of the game. Al Demaree, the Giant pitcher, uses rosin continually, which explains his habit of putting his hand in his hip pocket before every pitch.

HIGHS HAVE STRONG SCHEDULE OF GAMES FOR COMING SEASON

Madison, Freeport, Ellettsville and Elkhorn on Locals' Chart—Six Weeks to Prepare for Big Games.

Ten games, all with strong naves, are included in the schedule for the Janesville high school basketball team for the coming season. Eight of these games will figure largely on whether or not the team will go to Appleton, to play on for another state title. The Alumni and Freeport contests will be merely practice games for the locals, although these two contests are regarded as two of the strongest on the chart. With the alumni, older and faster, last year's star guards, will perform, together with other material composed of Ryan, Korst, Langdon, Brown, Wilkins, Greene, and possibly Murphy. The Freeport five will come up with a team composed of veterans, who barely missed capturing the Illinois state title from Galesburg last winter. The games, if lost, will only lead the locals to fight harder for the games that count.

Perhaps the bitterest fought contest of the season will occur on Friday evening, February 13th, when the Madison locals come down for a game. This conflict has been arranged for the following reason: Janesville wins, Coach Curtis figures that the locals can go to Appleton, without playing any elimination games, because winning from Madison is really defeating the strongest of the state, from the present location of things. If Madison wins, Janesville will possibly be forced to play an elimination contest.

Two other new teams will be taken on, including Ellettsville and Monroe. But one game will be played with Beloit, the latter five coming here on February 6th. Coach Wickham of Beloit and Curtis of the locals, believe that two games each year is no longer necessary. The elimination of this extra game, which would lead to a third game, providing each school won a contest, is an advantage to both schools, because more schools can be taken on. This will, in time, eliminate the close rivalry which exists between Beloit and Janesville.

No regular team will be selected by Coach Curtis until after the Alumni game on January the ninth. In that game, all of the worthy material likely to make a strong showing for a place, will be given a chance. A careful selection will be made, because the most serious proposition to consider is, that the two guard positions be capably filled. There is six weeks of good, strenuous practice ahead, three weeks before the season and three after the holidays, before any Wisconsin high school teams are to be played. By that time, there should be a five working so well together that it would be difficult for a defeat to be possible.

Another brilliant move is included in the ability of Coach Curtis in arranging the schedule. The last game on the chart is with Jefferson here on March the 13th. Then there will be two weeks of rest before indulging in any championship tilts. This rest will be favorably received after playing ten hard games, is the opinion of the students and their coach. Counting all elimination games are to be played, the locals must fit themselves to meet all the hardships, which the Lawrence college management might insist upon. The present dates are not all certain, as the Beloit school are not sure whether the date set for their conflict with the locals is going to be satisfactory. Other dates may be changed, but the teams will remain the same.

The baskets will be put out tonight so that practice may be started at once. Fifteen men will appear at the

SOCIETY TO ATTEND FIGHT AT MILWAUKEE

Boxing Bout of Luxe Will be Staged in Battle Between Packey McFarland and Jack Britton.

Milwaukee, Dec. 8.—Pugilistic receptions, tea fights, a Queensbury, and ten round bridge parties may become all the rage in Milwaukee after tonight. Also the darling pink tights of Battling Burdett and the tango crunch of Knock-out Burns may reach draped gowns and the Hesitation wait as topics of conversation among the fair sex of the Cream City society set.

Tonight Promoter Tommy Andrews of the Queensbury Athletic club, plans to stage his first "boxing bout de luxe" and for probably the first time in state history a public encounter will be a society event. When Packey McFarland, the Chicago stockyard fighter and Jack Britton face each other for their scheduled ten round go in the Auditorium, the boxes surrounding the squared circle are expected to be filled with women in evening gowns, and men in dress clothes, for although Andrews has not placed any restrictions on the way the occupants of club boxes shall dress, it is understood that the open-face tugs will be decided de rigueur. Whether women will put in an appearance is not actually known, but it is believed many will take advantage of Promoter Andrews' invitation. Utmost assurance was given by club officials that nothing objectionable would be staged. In short, an effort is being made to make the fighting game in this city from the semi-subrosa position which it occupied before the passage of the boxing law. Of course, since the passage of the Hedding law, the game has been strictly above board, but its reputation as a "man's sport" has held. In England women turn out in great numbers and Andrews and his associates are striving to create the same enthusiasm that prevails abroad right here in Milwaukee—probably the most "foreign" of all domestic cities.

Thus far, their efforts seem to have been successful. The Auditorium appears to be ideal as an arena, both from an standpoint of lighting and seating, and the boxes, surrounding the ring and about thirty yards back from the enclosure, give the promoters an opportunity to stage their "pink tea stuff." The Madison Square Garden arena in New York City, promoters claim, is the only auditorium as well adapted for the staging of a boxing match as is the local amphitheatre.

Interest in Andrews' experiment almost overshadowed the interest of the fans in the contest, which promises to equal anything seen in Wisconsin this year. Both boys were to weigh in under 140 at three o'clock this afternoon and were expected to be in Triple X condition for the miling.

A good card of preliminaries, including a bout between Peanuts Shieberl and Jimmy Doyle as a semi-wind-up, has been arranged.

CAUTION!

The great popularity of the clean, pure, healthful WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT is causing unscrupulous persons to wrap rank imitations that are not even real chewing gum so they resemble genuine Wrigley's. The better class of stores will not try to fool you with these imitations. They will be offered to you principally by street fakirs, peddlers and the candy departments of some 5 and 10 cent stores. These rank imitations cost dealers one cent a package or even less and are sold to careless people for almost any price. If you want Wrigley's look before you buy.

OPTIMISM.

The bright side of life is always the pleasant side, but the thing which makes it pleasant is not so much the brightness, as the contrast. The perpetual sunshine of California becomes monotonous to the visitor.

The long continued era of prosperity which we have enjoyed, as a people, has lacked appreciation, because the steady tide, with ever increasing volume, has flowed on with monotonous regularity and our wants have multiplied until many of us nourish a grievance.

We have exceeded the speed limit so long that the craze has become a habit, and any suggestion at slowing down is regarded as a note of pessimism.

The Gazette has taken occasion, of late to state the facts concerning conditions in the industrial and financial world, and to comment on the changes due to tariff and other legislation. The topic is not the most cheerful to discuss, and yet no paper has the right to ignore the discussion of disagreeable topics that are of importance.

The slowing down process, which is going on throughout the country, is the best thing that has happened to us, as a nation, in a decade, because it will introduce an era of thought and conservative action, and this is sorely needed.

We have simply gone crazy wild on reform and regulation, as evidenced by the burdensome taxation which now confronts us. The pace has been so rapid that no time has been given to thought or consequences, and because a breathing spell is promised, the outlook inspires a hopeful optimism for good results are bound to follow.

While Wisconsin is cursed with a lot of radical reform laws, for which the taxpayers will pay dearly, yet the state is in a class by itself this year, so far as prosperity is concerned. It is one of the few states which was highly favored by a bumper crop.

Unlike the great manufacturing districts of the east, its industries and sources of production are so diversified that it will stand the storm without serious results.

Janesville, in the heart of the banner county, is the best trading center in the state. The wealth of the contributory district is so evenly distributed, and so abundant, that nothing short of a panic can disturb it, and there is no prospect of a panic.

The conservatism of the Bower City is sometimes criticised, and neighboring cities are referred to, in odious comparison. But there are times when this conservative spirit is a valuable asset, as may be demonstrated in the near distant future.

In the meantime let us combine a little sober thought with our work, and we may decide, when the time comes, to redeem our state from the most reckless lot of political pirates that ever infested the seat of government.

SHORT AND READABLE.

In commenting upon the president's message delivered last Tuesday to congress, the Wall Street Journal characterizes it as short and readable. Then it proceeds to take an analysis of the message and point out some of its defects. It makes interesting reading for those who were disappointed in the message and resented the insinuations of the democratic campaign orators during the last campaign. It says:

"Both administration and hostile papers agree in two criticisms of the President's message—that it is short and readable. It might be added in all fairness that it could even have been shortened 50 per cent. without decreasing either its readability or its substance. So kindly a critic as the Journal of Commerce says: 'The message is so suave and smooth and cheerful, that one finds it hard to complain of its lack of real analysis, or discussion of anything.'"

"It was the president, as a campaigner, who referred to the knowledge, do-nothing administration of his predecessor. Granting the premise, friends of President Taft might be pardoned if they retorted that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery. Certainly there is little in the first regular message of President Wilson to let congress or the country know by what stars the course of the ship of state is to be laid.

"Admitting, as the president says, that the power and prestige of Huerta are 'daily crumbling away,' are they crumbling because of a return to that 'constitutional order' which Mr. Wilson desiderates, or because Mexico now has the potentiality of another military 'usurper and dictator' in General Carranza, who shows his feeling toward constitutionalism by murdering his prisoners in cold blood, and permits his followers to support themselves by indiscriminate pillage. With the presence of the rebel army in Mexico, will our administration's problem be any different from what it is now? Will the unhappy country in any way be relieved from the brigandage which has well nigh become the daily avocation of its citizens?

"In the studied appeal to the farmer vote, the message smacks suspiciously of ignoble politics, and by that token loses dignity and force. Such expressions as 'it is from the quiet interstices of the open valleys and the free hillside that we draw the sources of life and of prosperity,' are undoubtedly readable; but they hardly satisfy a business community anxious to know whether prosperity is simply caught in an eddy, or hanging near the brink of a cataract.

"Because of this uncertain outlook, the half-baked suggestion for a radical innovation as to the method of electing the president seems doubly unfortunate. Like the anti-trust message, this might well have waited until after the currency bill is disposed of—and long after."

PROGRESSIVE TAXATION.

The following verse may not be poetry but it is truth, nevertheless, in describing the condition of the taxpayer after the progressives get through with him:

Our boss is gone dead, and our mule is gone lame,
An' we lost our dog in a poker game;
Then a cyclone came 'long, 'tother day,
An' blew the house where we lived away;
An' earthquake followed when that was gone,
An' swallowed the spot that the house stood on.
Now, the durned tax-collector, he's come around,
T' make us pay on a hole in the ground.—Anonymous.

ACRHEISHOP JOHN IRELAND.

"Never, in any point of the past history of America were there so many political fads thrown out for consumption; never was there such faulty legislation proposed; never was there such doctrines of anarchy preached. Why, go down to any of our legislatures while they are in session and read the three, four or five thousand bills there proposed, and you will see that where wisdom should be there is folly; you will see that where foresight should be there is folly; you will see that where foresight should be there is blindness. Everything today, as it has been well said, is to be regulated by law. We are all to be tied, limbs and hands, and allowed to move only as the clock will strike from legislative hall or executive office."

Daniel Frohman Presents

JAMES K. HACKETT in

"THE PRISONER OF ZENDA"

The Dramatic Masterpiece of Romance and Adventure. A Photoplay in Four Parts

THE PRISONER OF ZENDA, Anthony Hope's masterpiece, teeming with exquisite excitement and absorbing adventure, is a famous novel; the stage production of the subject, with James K. Hackett infusing into the leading role (the double impersonation of the weak, but lovable King and the earnest, forceful man whom fate sent to guard his throne) all his vigorous art and virile characterization, is a famous play; but it remained for the Famous Players Film Company to combine the thrilling incidents of the novel and the dramatic episodes of the play in what is therefore the most comprehensive and realistic version of the subject, in motion pictures.

"The Prisoner of Zenda" was Daniel Frohman's greatest success, and James K. Hackett's greatest personal triumph. The play entertained tens of thousands, and the film production will continue to entertain an audience of millions. It will tour the world, and be within physical and financial reach of all.

ROMANCE blended with the thrill of danger and doubt; loyalty emphasized by surrounding treachery and intrigue; the impulse of daring and the ecstasy of hazard; the tense struggle of souls in combat; the battle between desire and denial; reckless ambition and the misery of its climax; the power of good and the force of evil; the war and war of hearts; the triumph of duty over vice, hate, and even love; and throughout all the conflict of emotions and events, the sympathetic influence of a woman's tenderness; and Fate—Fate and a woman's heart, a woman's heart and its hunger—these combine the thrilling, theme of "The Prisoner of Zenda," the tale of a man who was a king, and a king who was a man!

RIVER IMPROVEMENT PROSPECTS HOPEFUL
REPORT OF PARKER
Informs Members of Janesville Commercial Club that Project is Growing in Favor at Washington.

The Commercial Club directors met at the Myers Hotel this noon and listened to the report of George S. Parker, who went to Washington last week to represent Janesville at the waterways conference.

Mr. Parker left Chicago with the Illinois delegation, headed by Gov. Dummer, and was impressed during his stay at the capitol by the favorable comment and feeling regarding the development of Rock River; he stated that the chance for the improvement of the river would be far greater than in his belief the work would be still in five years' time. The government officials seemed much interested in Janesville and its position in connection with the river improvement.

The club members gave a vote of thanks for his efficient service.

The League of Municipalities met tonight at Madison to take action on important state questions and Secretary F. E. Paul was instructed to attend as representative of Janesville.

Mayor Fathers and Commissioners Cummings and Milmore and P. H. Curran, of the Electric Company were the guests of the directors at the question of more efficient street lighting was discussed, and especially that part with reference to the installation of ornamental lights in the business section. President Jas. S. Philfield called on the mayor for his views. He said in substance that he favored a re-lighting system by which the present arc lamps could be reduced in candle power and more than used throughout the ward, that if the ornamental lighting in the business section could be brought about without addition cost as a result of the change in the outlying districts, he favored such action.

President P. H. Curran said the Electric Company would be glad to co-operate with the authorities and to arrange a new contract with the city if thought advisable, by which the present contract, which still has eighteen months to run, would be abrogated and a new one entered into. It seemed to be the general opinion that the ornamental lighting could be arranged for no greater expenditure of money than at present. The city officials and electric company are to confer on the subject and then meet the Commercial Club committee.

Hardly a city in a country that illuminates its main streets with ornamental fixtures—even Delavan, Harvard, Woodstock, Port Atkinson, etc., have adopted the system.

President Jas. S. Philfield was in the chair.

DROPS DEAD AT THE FOOTVILLE CREAMERY

Robert Barrett Succumbs Early This Morning, After Unloading Milk—Heart Trouble the Cause.

Robert Barrett, a farmer, residing on half a mile east of Footville, dropped dead at an early hour this morning at the Footville creamery, heart trouble being the cause of his death. After unloading his morning supply of milk, he was standing alone, watching the creamery men at work, when suddenly he was seized by gas and fell over dead. He was a man about sixty-five years of age, and lived alone with a brother, Patrick. He has two sisters in Chicago, and of course notified of his death. Funeral announcements will be given later.

Auto Stolen: The local police have been notified that a 1912 Rambler roadster stolen at Harvey, Illinois, on November 16, by two men, was seen headed toward this city on Thursday last week. It carried Illinois license number 45122.

Need Teachers: Because of illness and other causes there will soon be two or three vacancies in the country schools of the county according to County Superintendent O. D. Antisdel. It is difficult to fill them at this time of the year as none but experienced teachers, provided with certificates and qualified to teach in this county, can be employed.

Sister Martha Bridgetta McGinley. An announcement is made of the funeral of Sister Mary Bridgetta McGinley at St. Clara's convent, Sinsinawa Mounds, Wisconsin, on Friday last, Dec. 5th. The deceased was the sister of Mrs. Richard McGinley of this city, and leaves to mourn her loss three brothers, Dennis, William and John, and two sisters, Mary and Mrs. McCarthy, of this city. She was forty weeks of age and had been in the convent for twenty years. A beautiful Christian spirit, her death is a source of sincere grief to her relatives and all who knew her in her work in the church.

MUST ANSWER CHARGE OF WIFE DESERTION

Albert Fitzgerald Arrested on Order of Sheriff at Grand Rapids, Michigan—Taken There Today.

Albert Fitzgerald, who has been doing odd jobs about the city for the last two months or more, was placed under arrest Saturday afternoon by Captain Harry Smith on the order of Sheriff J. S. Wolfe, who had received instructions from Sheriff Edward O'Donnell of Grand Rapids, Michigan. He was taken to Grand Rapids this morning by a deputy from that city and will be arraigned on the charge of deserting his wife and child. On conviction he may receive a sentence of three years in state's prison.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, the wife of the prisoner, came to Janesville last summer in search of her husband. The sheriff rendered her assistance and after a five-mile drive in the country Fitzgerald was found. He was taken before the district attorney and on his promise to mend his way and return with her to Grand Rapids, he was permitted to accompany her home. About six weeks later Sheriff Whipple discovered he was back in Janesville and questioned him. He explained his presence here by saying that matters in Grand Rapids had been so complicated and his family was coming here to live in a short time. Subsequent developments show this statement to have been a ruse.

CHRISTMAS CHEER TO START WITH A RUSH

Many Families Can Be Cared for by Associated Charities Committee If Contributions Are Received.

Already cash contributions are being received in answer to the appeal for funds and toys for the Christmas baskets that will be delivered Christmas eve by the committee of the Associated Charities, under the direction of Father Henry Willmann. It is hoped the response will be general and that sufficient funds will be obtained to furnish cheer at this holiday season for all those who otherwise might be forgotten. Contributions, either cash or check, can be left at the Gazette office and all toys or suitable gifts that may be utilized can also be left at the same office. This afternoon the matter was formally taken up by the Associated Charities and the committee named to work with Father Willmann.

Winfield Wright and Albert Jennings Learn That Practice Is Unpopular—Bob Welch Field.

Winfield Wright and Albert Jennings, "repeaters," learned that their practice is highly unpopular with Judge Maxfield, and also that they would have profited by remembering the caution given them on the occasion of their arrest, when they were sentenced this morning to ninety days in the county jail. Both appeared very much humiliated, excused themselves by saying that they did not remember what the judge had told them, and declared their intention to stop drinking altogether from this time on. They were told that subsequent arrests would mean even more serious penalties.

Sentence was suspended on "Bob" Welch until tomorrow. It is only about a week ago that he was brought into court, but he protested that he was only slightly intoxicated this time, and that for a week he had been working and not touched liquor.

On the Spur of the Moment

December Morn. Through diaphanous pajamas The winds of winter blow As I slumbering go To murky realms below. Even so, I've been routed from my slumbers For my mansion, it is chill; I'll write a voice, in voice that's shrill, Has repeated oft the shout, "Hurry down, you lazy lout; Yes, the furnace fire is out." Then my knees, they knock together, It's some fright, is the weather, And I tackle my old furnace With a feeling of despair, For it's full of stubborn clinkers, And the frost is in the air. Then came floating down the stair One fond voice I never forget, "Ain't you got it started yet?" Then I shake it like a demon, Till my elbows rack with pain, But I find there's nothing doing, So I crank her up again. Then I burn up old newspapers And a barrel and a chair, And a table and all other Of my wife's furniture I dare. If I'm lucky and naught happens And my plans all come out right, I most surely have my furnace Going pretty good by night.

Dress. We're amazed and dumbfounded and somewhat astonished at freakish creations in clothes; men wear high-water pants, and we need but to glance to see women exposing their hose. A yard and a half—even in a gown—will make a grown woman a dress; while tight fitting trowsers make it easy for Towser to put a man in deep distress. Miss Slim and Miss Fatty are said to look natty astroll through the streets of a town wearing fourteen-inch girdles, like mounts for the hurdles, their lines running straight up and down. Shirt waists strike us queer with the bulge in the rear, while men in tight coats look a fright, but those neat little hats, with the bows at the backs, are truly an interesting sight. Tell me candidly, friend, when and where will it end? Will our clothes be like Adam's and Eve's? Will we wear with much ease as the first of our race, just simple creations of leaves.

Uncle Abner. Anse Judson must have made a lot of money in that mining venture out west. They had porterhouse steak for supper the other night. Hank Stebbins has resigned his position at the stove mill for the winter as his wife has got several profitable dressmaking jobs on. Squire Purdy, our judge, is just now digging into the most interesting case that has come into his court in many a day. It is a case of beer that was confiscated by the constable.

Our Washington News. One of the waiters in the Willard hotel suffered a stroke of apoplexy today. A guest tendered him a one-dollar tip. Anything less than $2 causes apoplexy and anything less than $1 sudden death. The cabinet members announce that they are behind President Wilson in his Mexican policy. But, how far behind?

Twenty-seven original Wilson men who called for Clark through the Baltimore convention called at the White House today to get the appointment of revenue collector at Painted Post, for Major Blissha W. Dahymple. The major has been a life-long Democrat ever since last November. The appointment was held in abeyance. White House police take all packages away from men who call there on business. One man called yesterday with a package that could not be taken away from him and he is now in the police station.

Christmas. Christmas time is comin' round, Comin' with a leap and bound. Haven't got much time to save For those presents our folks crave. Member what I said last year, When the season of good cheer Had reduced my good old purse To a frazzellette or worse? Said I would begin in June, Thought it wouldn't be too soon To begin to save my dough For the gifts this year, you know. Somehow I forget my pledge, Now we are upon the edge Of another glad some time When the merry Christmas chime Makes us count our cash for fair. Soon hear sleighbells in the air. Somehow I don't like that sound—Christmas time is comin' round.

Here's the Recipe of Success. The way to make a success of any job is to care whether you do it right or not.—California Outlook.

ON BORROWING

by GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Slaves."

BORROWING is a talent, a vice, a virtue, a dissipation, and a very pleasant help in time of trouble. Borrowing is not all of these things to the same man, however. There are as many kinds of borrowing as there are many ways of telling a girl that she is nine up and eight to play with you.

Some men borrow money as they would a lawn-mower, an umbrella, a street car ticket or a tooth brush. It is easier to borrow money than it is to hustle around and stake a claim on a good job. These men generally begin life with a large circle of friends and end with a few acquaintances who by reason of rheumatism or stringhalt are unable to be elsewhere in a great hurry.

Some men borrow money because they have lost theirs and must finance a new start. Getting a new start on a nice large wad of borrowed money is a nice division of labor. The borrower does the working and the borrowee does the working.

Some men borrow money because they have to have it. There is no more legitimate object of pity than the man who tries to borrow money because he needs it. John D. Rockefeller, who has several millions full of bond coupons, could go out at any time and borrow a wagon load of rich, juicy scads because he doesn't need them. But when a man has to have $500 by tomorrow noon he discovers that depression hangs over the land, that stocks are depressed, the future is black, the word currency has been torn out of the dictionary and that all of his friends have unfortunately disposed of their surplus wealth only the day before.

Some men borrow money in order to set it to work. They are a regular employment bureau for idle money. They take the dollar which has lain for years in the stocking of its secretive owner and set it to work piling up interest. They ride the savings banks to build railroads and empty the corn cribs of the nation in order to erect new factories.

Many a man has started in life with nothing, but a genius for borrowing some other man's money and returning it to him two-fold in the course of time. If it were not for these ready and talented borrowers, America would still be struggling along on a cash basis and the projected railroad from New York to Chicago would now be rearing its head in the clouds.

of New York were thrown to the track in a bad spill on the Madison avenue turn. Carman was picked up unconscious and it was thought at first that his collar bone was broken, but it developed that he sustained only a strain of the shoulder. While still suffering from shocks he insisted upon resuming the track and was back on his wheel within an hour. The other two men were only slightly injured.
The score board at 8 o'clock showed that 189 miles three laps had been covered, equalling the record made by Walthour and Cameron last year. The teams were bunched with Corry leading.
Shortly before 9 o'clock there were two bad spills on the Fourth avenue turn. The first ten riders went down in a heap and Granda was carried from the track unconscious. He was attended by a physician, and after a few minutes resumed the grind with a splint. As he did so the tire blew out and there was another smashup. No one was badly hurt.

MOOSE POLO TEAM TO PLAY KENOSHA

After a period of idleness of over a month, the Janesville Moose roller polo team will again appear in the arena, pitted against the crack Kenosha five, in the second game of the year. It is expected that the contest will be scheduled on Wednesday night but no official work has been received by the Kenosha management.
The Moose team has been putting the last two weeks to a good advantage in preparation for a hard schedule after the holidays, by holding strenuous practice two and three times a week. It is expected that the formation of the interstate trolley league will be fully organized in January and games every week will be played in this city. It is announced that the same team that defeated the Racine aggregation in the first game will oppose the five from Kenosha in this week's contest.

The best Christmas present you can give the mail man, the express man, or the shopgirl, is to do your shopping early.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get At the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets.

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way, when the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio. All druggists.

ELKS RENDER HONOR TO THOSE DEPARTED

MEMORIAL SERVICES ARE HELD BY JANESVILLE LODGE NUMBER 254.

ADDRESS BY M'MAHON

The Rev. John McKinney Also Spoke—Exalted Ruler Charles Snyder Presides.

The spirit of "justice, brotherly love and fidelity" manifested itself at the annual memorial service held by the Janesville lodge of Elks, Number 254, at the Myers opera house yesterday afternoon. If the seventeen departed members of that organization could have but heard the words of praise that were bestowed upon their lives at the service they would have judged it a perfect tribute to them and felt well repaid for their charitable deeds during the period when they were able to answer the roll call.

Charles E. Snyder, Exalted Ruler, presided at the service, calling on the brothers for their respective parts of their lives that "have" been called is one of our duties.

After the Rev. John McKinney had given the invocation, Edward M. McMahon of the Madison lodge addressed the members and friends in a most stirring and masterly address.

"The Angel of Death during the lapse of time has passed over the portal of this chamber and seventeen loyal hearts have ceased to beat, seventeen righteous voices forever hushed, their kindly faces you will see no more, their feet no longer press the sand along the shore of time. As an organization, you stand in the shadow of the world's greatest mystery—a shadow as dark and deep as can be woven of the warp and woof of mystery and death—a shadow as deep as when the tears of a loving mother fall upon the pallid face of her lifeless babe—a mystery that has never been solved.

"Ever since the life of man began, their successors have pondered on death as eternal sleep or an entrance to another and better life, and they will continue to ponder while the world endures, between the comfort of the Christian faith and the Agnosticism which replies 'I do not know,' men have and will hesitate. 'Nature in her myriad voices proclaims divine revelation, proclaiming the affirmative in her strongest voice. The roses bloom, perfume the desert air, they cheer the chamber of the sick, and then they fade. The essential life of no flower is ever lost. The law that dominates in the realm of the human mind. Clarity, is a matter of feeling, justice, primarily is a practice of feeling between men. The cardinal virtue of Elks should be the establishing of the traits of honesty, self control, being reliable, sincere, loyal, courteous and being enthusiastic men.

"Honesty is a necessary attribute to all Elks. A man is a fool who is not absolutely honest. The maxim, 'honesty is the best policy' is wrong, for there is nothing best about it. Honesty is the only policy. In the last analysis, no one knows but ourselves whether we are honest or not. Ask yourself, keep close watch of your motives, for we are likely to find ourselves doing little really dishonest acts.

"Kindness is seeing opportunity to be just and responding to its call. Self control means the curbing of man's temper. The time will come when no man will be called great until he is a gentleman. To lose the temper is putting a blight upon the lives of others and causing untold injury. Keep your promises by being reliable, not interrupting the plans of others, and consider a broken promise as a worthless credit. Sincerity is the quality that makes and holds friends; a man cannot be insincere without injuring himself. It pays, insincerity makes some friends but it never keeps them. Courtesy is an asset and a practice of it is of the greatest help to society. Enthusiasm is the white heat that fuses all qualities into one effective mass; it keeps men out of the ruts and unless this is prevalent, man is a mere statue.

Above all, Elks should know the word loyalty, loyalty to their state and God. Make a roomy place in your lives for truth and loyalty; through it you will develop power, without it, you cannot pull a load. The strength of a giant is small beside it to that which this virtue produces.

"In the rush of private affairs, we often fail in the outward expression of kindly sentiments, which we entertain for others. In life we hesitate to tell them of their nobility; to sorrow and rejoice with them in their battles, until it is too late. After death you only see the sparkling of the gem of whose worth you were unconscious. The grandest thing, next to the radiance that flows from the Almighty throne, is the light of a worthy, noble and beautiful life, shining in the benediction upon the destinies of man and finding its bosom of the everlasting God." was the message in part that the speaker delivered to his audience.

The Rev. John McKinney also spoke on the question of eternal life, as to how poets sang its wonders. Philosophers used their imagination, to carry their readers into the realms that no one could see or hear. "We have our belief, our hope, on the teachings of the Bible and in this way obtain a clearer understanding of the mystery than the scientist with his rule," commented Dr. McKinney. "We are not far separated from the future and with all the wonderful sights that we have witnessed and gone through in our lives, a vast superior one awaits us in Heaven.

"Man is unable to understand death. A nurse can not see a babe's soul survive, or a surgeon see it leave the body of a man on the operating table, but we know that it has gone when death points a finger at its victims. The Holy Scriptures say that we shall stand in face to face. No man has seen God during life. Know yourself, for our lives will pass a review and we will then understand its victories and failures. Man lives his life here and if he has lived a true life, he has nothing to fear in his judgment and his solving of the great mystery," was the message of the speaker.

The Congregational church orchestra rendered two selections, and the Lotus Male Quartet sang "Our Absent Ones," "We Are Going Down the Valley," "The Twenty-Third Psalm" and "The Lord's Prayer. Miss Margaret McCulloch, accompanied by Miss Ada Lewis, sang "In the Night, Silent Song." The service closed with a benediction by the Rev. McKinney.

START COLLECTING TAXES AMONG MILWAUKEE PEOPLE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Milwaukee, Dec. 8.—City Treasurer Joseph P. Carey today opened the doors of his big safe and prepared to relieve the citizens of Milwaukee of something over eleven million dollars. Carey and his assistants today began the collection of the annual taxes amounting to $11,651,654, which must be in the public coffers before January 31.

Tax payers will be obliged to contribute $230 per $1,000 of valuation more this year than last. The city taxes are lower but the state and county taxes are high enough to cause the increase.

$6,547,223 in taxes to be collected total $11,651,654 and the city and state taxes $3,274,043.25. The total income tax assessment is $1,629,706.98.

He Understood.

The young man had asked for a horse that was gentle and safe. As he drove out of the stable the liveryman said: "The spring on the right side of the buggy is the stronger," and the young man blushed until his ears looked like a sunset in a chromo.

Aid for Short-Sighted.

A German doctor has devised a revolutionary method of correcting poor eyesight. It is a telescope spectacle and is claimed to be the best and healthiest method for a near-sighted person to bring objects close to the eyes and thus see well at a distance.

The glasses are a combination of a convex objective with a concave eyepiece and have to be fitted most carefully to each person.

EAT NEW BREAD, CABBAGE, SAUSAGE, FISH, "PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" WILL DIGEST IT ALL

Eat Without fear of indigestion or a sour, gassy stomach, Heartburn or Dyspepsia.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to-isour and upset you. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered, you get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach—so you can eat your favorite foods without fear. Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Put an end to stomach trouble by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

Classified Want Ad?

"I want a cook—I want one at once—guess I'll advertise" said a busy young Mother a few days back.

So this is what she wrote. "WANTED—Cook, apply at 245 Green street, after 4:00 P. M."

No she did not receive even one answer; consequently she said the want ad page was a "fake." Had she written one something like this, she'd never blamed the want ad page and she'd have got her cook.

"WANTED—In a family of six, cook who is neat, willing and reliable. To one who is competent and trustworthy good wages and home will be given."

See the difference? Learn how to advertise, the people are not mind-readers, tell your wants.
